

GARDINER

Gardiner is so beautiful that President Roosevelt chose it as the site of America's first National Park. Though most of Yellowstone National Park resides in Wyoming, Gardiner is home to the Roosevelt Arch which one of only 3 year-round entrances. Gardiner has a lot more to offer than just the world famous Park...white water rafting in Yankee Jim Canyon, world renowned art galleries, quaint, unique bed & breakfasts, great food from the likes of the Two Bit Saloon and Helen's Corral are just a few of the things to keep visitors entertained in this small town in Yellowstone Country. Just 30 minutes from Chico Hot Springs and Paradise Valley, Gardiner is a true Montana icon.

To see more of what Gardiner has to offer visit <http://www.gardinerchamber.com/> or <http://visitmt.com/places-to-go/cities-and-towns/gardiner.html>